

EVOL Brand Direction and Guidelines

Love begins with you.

Market Scenario

Today's urban client is confident, self-aware, and driven by a desire for authenticity.

Jewellery is connected to gifting and relationships; while modern women (and increasingly, men) are also increasingly seeing it as a symbol of self-expression and personal identity.

There is a growing cultural shift toward self-love, self-celebration, and self-worth—values that align with the brand's contemporary ethos.

Brand TG

Urban, modern jewellery buyers aged 22–40 who value:

Self-expression

Independence

Style with meaning

Emotional authenticity

Premium, contemporary design

They are achievers, dreamers, and boundary-pushers who see jewellery as a choice and mode of expression.

Brand Mission

We design jewellery as compositions, thoughtful pieces that express who you are, and who you're growing into.

Brand Vision

To reclaim love as something you give yourself first.

Brand Values

Just like the 4Cs of diamonds (5th one often being the Certification), we have our 5Cs that are reflected in all our actions.

1. CLARITY

We move with precision and deliberation—in thought, in design, in every decision.

2. CREATIVITY

We shape taste without chasing trends—doing better, not more, finding the new in the familiar. EVOL creates restrained designs that feel relevant today and timeless tomorrow.

3. COMMITMENT

We deliver with consistency and excellence, every time. Commitment is our quiet promise—grounded in ownership, discipline, and follow-through.

4. CURIOSITY

We ask better questions. Curiosity keeps EVOL evolving—open-minded, discerning, and guided by clear standards.

5. CHARACTER

Integrity and authenticity guide us. Character earns trust—through consistency, respect, and care for the buyer. We do the right thing—even when it's harder.

Brand Manifesto

It begins with me. It begins with you.

To see the world with compassion and clarity.

To walk the path that feels true.

To give fully, and deliver with intention.

To ask boldly, and listen with an open mind.

To remain steady in a shifting world.

To stand with integrity, rooted in who we are.

To learn to love ourselves, so we can love another.

It begins with me. It begins with you.

Brand Personality

Modern

Minimal, clean, design-led; rooted in contemporary culture.

Compassionate

Human, understanding, grounded in emotional intelligence.

Honest

Transparent processes, clear communication.

Passionate

Engaged with craft, emotion, and purpose—driven by belief, not by noise. Passion here is focused, intentional, and meaningful.

Bold

Unafraid to express a point of view, challenge conventions.

Brand Proposition

Who is on the journey of love with you?

You

Someone who loves you

EVOL

Brand Proposition

Love begins with you.

In knowing yourself, you make space for real connection.

In loving yourself, you invite love in.

EVOL exists to honour that journey—crafting modern pieces that reflect clarity, balance, and the beauty of being true to oneself.

Through modern design, responsible craftsmanship, and transparent creation, EVOL crafts pieces that reflect the courage, composition, and self-awareness that define true connection.

EVOL celebrates what it means to love and be loved—beginning with you.

Brand Concept

Love begins with you.

Brand Narrative

Love Begins With You

Reframes jewellery as a bold declaration of one's own power and individuality.

This concept positions the brand as a partner in their self-celebration.

Brand Colours

Besides being the universal colour of love...

The colour red becomes a visual and emotional anchor, symbolizing:

Passion — the fire within

Power — the confidence to take up space

Boldness — the courage to express oneself unapologetically

While this is the significant colour of recognition for the brand, it will remain in accents, so as to not be overpowering, balanced with a neutral palette.

Brand Colours

The colour scheme and balance has been carefully constructed keeping in mind gender neutrality, not veering towards masculinity or femininity.

Silver grey adds elegance and sophistication balanced with a dash of bold red, that is a direct nod to the idea of "love" and creating a subtle recall for the brand concept.

The brand colour will be grey and red in combination, which is a balance that must be adhered to across touchpoints. It is not a 'red' brand.

To create more warmth in spaces, an off-white rather than grey should be used.

General Colour Usage Principles

Neutrals should dominate; jewellery is the hero.
Avoid using brand red as a background colour.
Maintain high contrast for readability.
Consistency across print, digital, and packaging is essential.
When in doubt, default to light grey + dark grey.

Brand Elements

Logo

Tagline

Pattern

The elements—logo, tagline and brand concept (used only in the pattern)—must be in synergy and used judiciously with the right colour balance so as to not compete with each other or create confusion.

Brand Elements Usage Dos and Don'ts

The brand concept must never be used independently. It can only be used as a pattern. Using it independently can create logo and brand confusion.

The logo can be used in red, grey or white. It can be used individually and across all platforms. Its size and proportion must be respected.

The tagline may be used independently in specified areas only, such as packaging, back of a business card, on walls or campaign spaces. It should only be used in the brand font, Crimson Text, in brand colours. When used with the logo, its width must never exceed the logo width. When used without the logo, it should ideally be one sentence without line breaks.

The pattern can never be used in red, only in grey or white, and more like a watermark. It must never compete with the logo and must never be used in conjunction with the logo. The size and proportions must never be distorted.

Brand Application

Love Begins With You as a tagline on mirrors, packaging, VM elements, etc.

Adding the brand pattern to parts of the brand packaging or stationery.

Usage of the brand colour in accents across all touchpoints.

Tone of Voice

Modern. Language of today, not archaic. Smart, quick and not static.

Light. Not heavy or complex. Breezy, human, to the point.

Expressive. Emotive, vivid, confident.

Do use short, confident sentences. Speak like a person. Keep it sharp and conversational.
Use vivid language. Show feeling, not features.

Do not sound ceremonial or old-world. Do not over-explain. Do not use heritage clichés. Do not use flat, generic descriptors.

Examples to avoid include phrases like “Timeless treasures for generations to come” or “Crafted with unparalleled excellence.”

Thank you.
